

Frequently asked questions (FAQ)

www.OPPO-Jailbreak.store

Q: Does your jailbreak work with the latest original firmware version already installed on my player?

A: Yes, our jailbreak works with any firmware version already installed, including the latest version.

Q: How does the jailbreak work, do I need to open my player?

A: The jailbreak will be flashed using an USB-TTL serial interface connected to the Oppo mainboard, so the player (casing) needs to be opened.

Q: Which USB-TTL serial interface do I need to buy and where?

A: We will provide an Amazon link to an interface which we know works 100%.

Q: Isn't it dangerous to open my player?

A: It's not dangerous at all, just don't touch anything inside the player when it's turned on.

Q: Do I lose guarantee/warranty when I open my player?

A: No, as long as you don't damage anything inside.

Q: I'm not technically savvy and afraid to open my player, isn't it very hard?

A: Honestly the jailbreak procedure is rather easy, but anyway, if you wish we can help you step-by-step on Skype.

Q: If there's an official firmware update available, how long does it take for the jailbreak firmware to be released and how can I get it?

A: Usually it takes 6-8 weeks after the release of the original/official firmware for the jailbreak firmware to be released. As a previous customer you will receive any updated jailbreak firmware from us for free as soon as available automatically delivered to your E-Mail address.